S. 682

To authorize the establishment of a Social Investment and Economic Development Fund for the Americas to provide assistance to reduce poverty and foster increased economic opportunity in the countries of the Western Hemisphere, and for other purposes.

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

MARCH 17, 2005

Mr. DODD introduced the following bill; which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations

A BILL

To authorize the establishment of a Social Investment and Economic Development Fund for the Americas to provide assistance to reduce poverty and foster increased economic opportunity in the countries of the Western Hemisphere, and for other purposes.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “Social Investment and 5 Economic Development Fund for the Americas Act of 6 2005”.

1 SEC. 2. FINDINGS; STATEMENT OF POLICY.

2 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

3 (1) The historic economic, political, cultural,
4 and geographic relationships among the countries of 5 the Western Hemisphere are unique and of con-
6 tinuing special significance to the United States.

7 (2) The interests of the countries of the West-
8 ern Hemisphere are more interrelated today than 9 ever before. Consequently, sound economic, social,
10 and democratic progress in each of the countries
11 continues to benefit other countries, and lack of it 12 in any country may have serious repercussions in 13 others.

14 (3) Following the historic Summits of the 15 Americas, the 1994 Summit in Miami, the 1998
16 Summit in Santiago, Chile, the 2001 Summit in 17 Quebec City, Canada, and the 2004 Special Summit 18 in Monterrey, Mexico, the heads of state of the 19 countries of the Western Hemisphere accepted the 20 formidable challenge of economic and social integra-
21 tion in and between their respective countries.

22 (4) To make progress toward economic and so-
23 cial integration, there is a compelling need to focus
24 on the social development of the people of the Amer-25 icas which, in turn, will promote the economic and 26 political development of the region.

1 (5) Investment in social development in the 2 Americas, including investment in human and social 3 capital, specifically in education, health, housing, 4 and labor markets with the goal of combating social 5 exclusion and social ills, will consolidate political de-6 mocracy and the rule of law and promote regional 7 economic integration and trade in the region.

8 (6) The challenge of achieving economic inte-
9 gration between one of the world's most developed
10 economies and some of the poorest and most vulner-11 able countries requires a special effort to promote 12 social equality, develop skills, and modernize the in-13 frastructure in poorer countries that will enable the 14 people of these countries to maximize the amount of 15 benefits accrued from economic integration.

16 (7) The particular challenge facing social and 17 economic development in Latin America is the his-18 toric and persistent highly unequal distribution of 19 wealth. Latin America suffers from the most un-20 equal distribution of wealth in the world with huge 21 inequities in the distribution of assets including edu-
22 cation, land, and credit.

23 (8) Latin America also confronts the challenge
24 of an increasing number of poor people. As of today, 25 approximately one-third of the population lives in

1 poverty and increasing numbers live in extreme pov-
 2 erty. Poverty exists in all Latin American countries
 3 but 70 percent of the region's poor live in the five 4 largest middle-income countries.

5 (9) Marginalized groups, including indigenous 6 populations, people of African descent, women, peo-
 7 ple with disabilities, and rural populations, are so-8 cially excluded and suffer from poverty, stigma, and 9 discrimination.

10 (10) Democratic values are dominant through-11 out the Americas, and nearly all governments in the 12 region have come to power through democratic elec-
 13 tions.

14 (11) Nonetheless, existing democratic govern-
 15 ments and their constituent institutions remain frag-
 16 ile and face critical challenges including effective
 17 democratic civilian authority over these institutions,
 18 including the military, the consolidation or establish-19 ment of independent judicial institutions and the 20 rule of law, and the elimination of corruption.

21 (12) The prosperity, security, and well-being of 22 the United States is linked directly to peace, pros-23 perity, and democracy in the Americas. The entire 24 region benefits by reducing poverty, strengthening 25 the middle class, and promoting the rule of law

1 which will also increase markets for United States
2 goods and create a better environment for regional 3 investment by United States businesses.

4 (13) Section 101 of the Foreign Assistance Act
5 of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2151) establishes as a principal 6 objective of United States foreign assistance the 7 “encouragement and sustained support of the people 8 of developing countries in their efforts to acquire the 9 knowledge and resources essential to development
10 and to build the economic, political, and social insti-
11 tutions which will improve the quality of their lives”.

12 (14) It is in the national interests of the United 13 States to assist developing countries in the Western 14 Hemisphere as they implement the economic and po-
15 litical policies which are necessary to achieve equi-
16 table economic growth.

17 (15) The Summit of the Americas has directly 18 charged the multilateral institutions of the Americas,
19 including the Organization of American States
20 (OAS), the Inter-American Development Bank
21 (IADB), and the Inter-American Agency for Co-
22 operation and Development with mobilizing private-23 public sector partnerships among industry and civil 24 society to help achieve equitable development objec-
25 tives.

1 (16) By supporting the purposes and objectives
2 of development and applying such purposes and ob-
3 jectives to the Americas, a Social Investment and 4 Economic Development Fund for the Americas has 5 the potential to advance the national interests of the 6 United States and directly improve the lives of the 7 poor and marginalized groups, encourage broad-
8 based economic growth while protecting the environ-
9 ment, build human capital and knowledge, support 10 meaningful participation in democracy, and promote 11 peace and justice in the Americas.

12 (b) STATEMENT OF POLICY.—It is the policy of the 13 United States—

14 (1) to promote market-based principles, eco-15 nomic integration, social development, and trade in 16 and between countries of the Americas by—

17 (A) nurturing public-private partnerships
18 and microenterprise development;

19 (B) improving the quality of life and in-20 vesting in human capital, specifically targeting 21 education, health and disease prevention, nutri-
22 tion, and housing;

23 (C) strengthening the rule of law through 24 improved efficiency and transparency in govern-

1 ment services and increasing civil society par-
2 ticipation in government; and

3 (D) reducing poverty and eliminating the 4 exclusion of marginalized populations, including 5 people of African descent, indigenous groups, 6 women, and people with disabilities; and 7 (2) to establish an investment fund for the 8 Western Hemisphere to advance the national inter-

9 ests of the United States, directly improve the lives 10 of the poor and marginalized, encourage broad-based 11 economic growth while protecting the environment,
12 build human capital and knowledge, support mean-13 ingful participation in democratic institutions and 14 processes, and promote peace and justice in the 15 Americas.

16 SEC. 3. AMENDMENT TO FOREIGN ASSISTANCE ACT OF 17 1961.

18 Part I of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (22
